EBG 2013 will be published in July 2012

The annual Electronics Buyers' Guide (EBG) is a comprehensive reference source which is recognised as the definitive Who's-Who of the South African Electronics and Communication Technology industry.

More than merely a listing of who offers what products, the EBG is an integrated offering in which all information is linked in a logical easy-to-follow format, taking customers from a need through to the final solution - be it a company's contact details or products - quickly and simply.

The EBG includes:

- Comprehensive directory listing of suppliers, manufacturers, vendors and service providers
- Comprehensive listing of manufacturers and brand names, and the South African suppliers thereof
- Product and services tables covering the full spectrum of the electronics and communications technology sectors

Online (www.ebg.co.za)

EBG is published on-line providing quick effective access for readers who prefer to access the information they require electronically. The online guide mirrors the printed copy, but allows for more in-depth searching to facilitate finding exactly the company, solutions and products needed.
